SUMMARY

As a recent graduate from the Faculty of Pharmacy at Ain Shams University, and currently pursuing a Master's degree in the Department of Pharmaceutics and Industrial Pharmacy, I am passionate about pursuing a career in academia as a teaching assistant. My strong academic background, including achieving honors and ranking 19th and 10th in my class for the last two years of my Bachelor's degree, has equipped me with the knowledge and skills necessary to excel in this field. I am particularly interested in utilizing my expertise in pharmacy to inspire and educate future generations of pharmacists.
